Alessandro Mendini

1931 - 2019

Intellettuale, progettista e architetto visionario, tra i più grandi innovatori del design italiano degli ultimi 50 anni. Nel 2014 riceve il Compasso d'oro come riconoscimento al lavoro di una vita. Per Mamoli ha disegnato la serie a cui oggi diamo il suo nome.

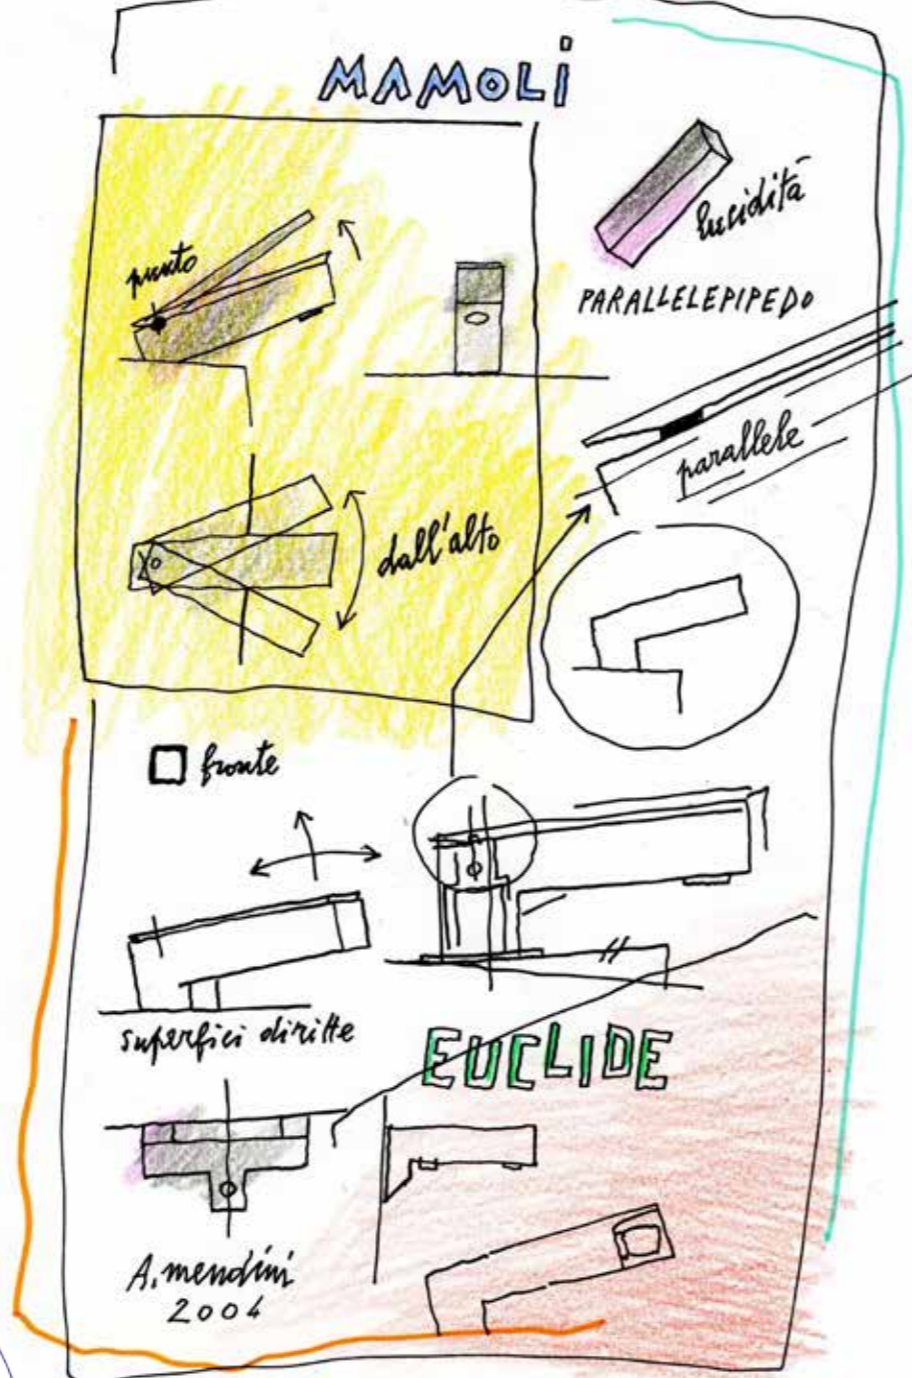

Alessandro Mendini

1931 - 2019

Intellectual, designer and visionary architect, one of the greatest innovators of Italian design of the last 50 years. In 2014 he received the Compasso d'Oro in recognition of his life's work. For Mamoli he designed the series to which we now give his name.

“Da tempo avevo in mente di disegnare un rubinetto costituito da un parallelepipedo. Un volume elementare da cui far uscire dell’acqua. Sezioni quadre e schematiche, linee parallele, superfici diritte, piatte e lucide. Mamoli mi ha fornito questa occasione. Ha approfondito la tecnica e le funzioni, poi abbiamo articolato tutta la serie, con grande piacere e velocità.”

Alessandro Mendini 2004

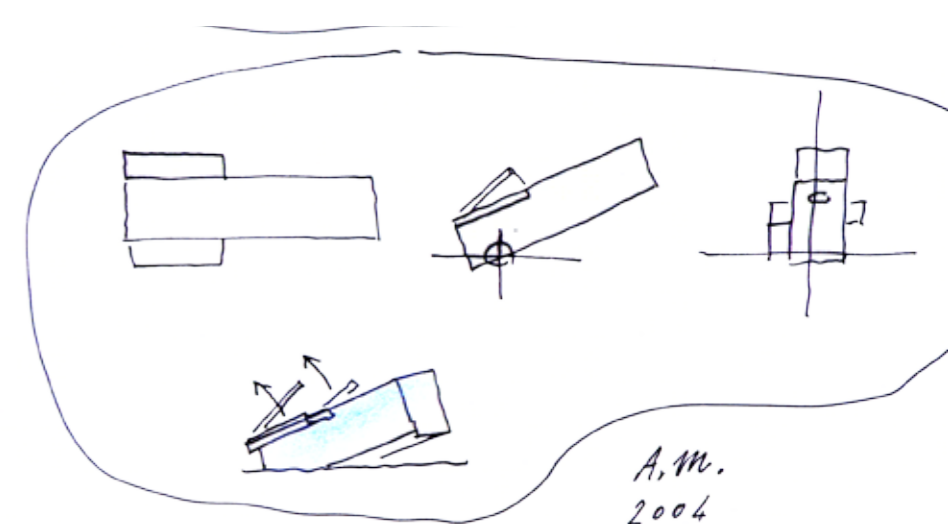

“For some time now I had been thinking about designing a tap in the form of a parallelepiped. A basic volume from which water would pour. Square and schematic sections, parallel lines, straight, flat and polished surfaces. I was given this opportunity by Mamoli. They studied the technique and the functions and then we prepared the whole series, with great pleasure and speed.”

Alessandro Mendini 2004

Nei primi anni 2000 volevamo un rubinetto dal disegno così elementare da risultare senza tempo. Schematico, essenziale, pulitissimo, elegante, fatto di superfici piatte, tagliate dalla luce. Un rubinetto geometrico, semplice in teoria, ma che non somigliasse a nient’altro.

Nel 2004 lo disegna per Mamoli Alessandro Mendini, che lo chiama EUCLIDE, descrivendolo come “forma primaria di geometria antica.” Elementare e unico, quel rubinetto diventa un’icona tra le nostre serie. Oggi, dopo vent’anni di onorata carriera, ci sembra bello cambiargli nome, dandogli quello del suo creatore.

In the early 2000s, we wanted a faucet with a design so basic that it was timeless. Schematic, essential, very clean, elegant, made of flat surfaces, cut by light. A geometric faucet, simple in theory, but resembling nothing else. In 2004 he designed it for Mamoli Alessandro Mendini, who calls it EUCLIDE, describing it as “a primary form of ancient geometry.” Elementary and unique, that faucet becomes an icon among our series. Today, after twenty years of honorable career, it seems nice to change its name, giving it that of its creator.
